

The Alabama Law Enforcement Alliance for Peer Support (ALLEAPS) and the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) will provide Law Enforcement peer support training in cooperation with the Jacksonville, Alabama Police Department, March 8-11, 2021. This 32-hour training has limited seating, and there is no cost for the training. The training will be conducted at Jacksonville Police Department, 911 Public Safety Drive, SW, Jacksonville, Alabama 36265.

The purpose of this course is to provide law enforcement officers with a distinct skill set, allowing them to deal with and assist other officers following high-stress job-related events such as:

- Officer-Involved Shooting
- Multiple Fatality Collisions
- Suicide
- Child Death, etc.

Additional topics explain the reasons for (and provide solutions):

- Why police officers live 20 years less than the general public.
- Why law enforcement officers commit suicide at 3-4 times the rate at which we are killed in the line-of-duty.
- Why career police officers in the U.S. are ranked first in Alcoholism, Divorce, Heart Disease, and PTSD.

ALLEAPS is NOT counseling. ALLEAPS is a highly effective peer-driven support system that exists exclusively within the law enforcement brotherhood, instead of with well-meaning mental health professionals that cops typically do not trust.

Completing the 32-hour ALLEAPS program qualifies students to be certified peer support members identified in Title 36-21-14, Code of Alabama. This certification provides law enforcement officers the identical privileged communication protection currently in place for a lawyer/client or doctor/patient.

This law enforcement training is RESTRICTED TO CERTIFIED PEACE OFFICERS and RETIREES with valid credentials. Chaplains and mental health professionals who comply with the requirements of 36-21-14, Code of Alabama, upon approval, may be permitted to attend.

The officer should have a good reputation and understanding of the law enforcement brother/sisterhood, along with the willingness to step up and act when another police officer is in need.

Registration: www.alleaps.org Jacksonville Training

Sponsored by the Houston County Sheriff's Office, Dothan, Alabama.

For more information:
Chief Marcus Wood
Jacksonville Police Department
(256) 782-3891

For more information regarding peer support, visit: www.alleaps.org